Fall 2021

Our Chapter House Turns 100!

The chapter house today.

The brand new chapter house in the 1920s.

This is the year our chapter house turns 100 years old. My, what stories those walls could tell!

But, of course, those stories can only be told by the brothers . . . and that's exactly what will be happening as we gather in Ames August 26 and 27, 2022, to celebrate the old gal's birthday. And for a centenarian, she's looking pretty good!

Registration materials will be mailed in May. At the same time, a link will be added to the chapter's website for those who wish to register electronically.

But if you really want to stay current on what's happening with this event, be sure you're signed up for Bill Good's periodic e-mail newsletter captioned "Phi Psi Updates from Iowa Beta." If you're not already getting these, sign up by sending Bill an email at williamjongood@gmail.com.

Big chapter events like these don't come around very often. We're confident that this gathering will be the largest one in the chapter's history. You will not want to miss it!

Hotel Alert: As we were going to press, we learned that the Farm Progress Show, a huge national agriculture show, starts in nearby Boone the week after our event. But competition for hotel rooms starts the weekend of our event, as vendors for the Show will be arriving early.

A block of rooms at $129 per night has been reserved at the Gateway Hotel (2100 Green Hills Drive, Ames, Iowa 50014, <http://www.gatewayames.com>, 515-292-8600 (mention "Phi Kappa Psi" when booking), but those will go quickly. Other hotel options can be found at <http://www.visitames.com>. Don't delay, make your reservations today!

Chapter Report

My, what a difference a year makes. Fall semester 2021 was so much different from last fall. With COVID-19 vaccines readily available, most activities at Iowa State returned to the old ways. And that included things at Phi Psi. We once again hosted Monday night dinners, dinner guests, and chapter meetings at the house. Football was back, and so were socials!

On November 5, 2021, Iowa Beta initiated 25 new brothers into the fraternity, thanks to the efforts of our summer recruitment chair Max Kern and the help of brothers Jordan Swanson, Oliver Stratton, Alec Finger, Matthew Brewster, and Alec Joerg. We were excited to find new brothers who will best continue to carry the four pillars of Phi Kappa Psi. The newly initiated brothers have already taken the initiative and started earning leadership positions around campus.

If you know of any incoming students with high academic achievement and solid character, please notify one of our recruitment team: Jordan Swanson (jordan08@iastate.edu, 515-777-9490), Ryan Colby (rcolby@iastate.edu, 952-737-8397), and Quinn Stewart (qstewart@iastate.edu, 515-777-4007).

Academics

Iowa Beta had another solid semester academically. Our 3.33 chapter GPA placed us third among 28 IFC fraternities. This marks the ninth semester in a row that we have placed in the top five. And going all the way back to spring semester 2008 (28 semesters), we have placed in the top ten in 25 of those semesters, and always in the top half. And our new members made us proud: their 3.47 GPA was the best among all IFC new member classes (except for one chapter which had only one new member).

Congratulations to these men who clocked in with a fall semester 4:00: Keaton Clay, Ian Dalton, John Draker, Louie Ervin, Charlie Hanneman, Will Kaney, Ryan Schiltz, Sam Shover, and Logan Wachter.

Homecoming

Amidst the COVID pandemic last year, there was no Homecoming. But fall 2021 semester brought it back, and Phi Psi was hungry to compete. Paired with Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Sigma Kappa sororities, our team's hard work and high participation rates resulted in our placing first in community service, second in banner, third in Yell-Like-Hell, and second overall. Congratulations to our overall chapter co-chairs, Gavin Sullivan and Oliver Stratton, for a job well done, and to our Yell-Like-Hell co-chairs, Ian Crumley and Spencer Weyer, for another fine performance.

Family Weekend

A good crowd showed up this fall for Family Weekend, back after a year's hiatus. Still wanting to be cautious about COVID, we brought in a large tent and arranged for lunch and most activities to be outside. It was a beautiful day, and the event went off without a hitch.

Philanthropy and Community Service

Phi Psi had a busy semester with service and philanthropy! A new event, Backyard Barbecue, was a joint event with Beta Theta Pi to raise money for the local Youth and Shelter Services (YSS) and Special Olympics Iowa. And for the second year, the chapter conducted a service event on campus to call attention to the dangers of distracted driving. Returning to some old standbys, the chapter once again helped raise money for the Children's Miracle Network by participating in a 24-hour gaming marathon conducted through the Extra Life program. And again, the men helped raise awareness of prostate cancer through the No Shave November program. All told, these efforts raised $2,952 for the various charities.

A new endeavor brought the chapter some nice local press from the United Way of Story County. In its November e-mail update, the UWSC had this to say about our chapter:

The men of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Iowa State were a huge help this past month. Our Story County Reads coalition hosted a trunk or treat event focusing on after-school programs and Phi Kappa Psi hosted four "trunks" at our event! These young men also helped one of our partner agencies move some heavy furniture when they were relocating. They were great to work with, with consistent communication and have even offered to help out at other activities with us coming up! We love working with students who have a passion for serving others. Thanks, Phi Psis!

Another new thing we did this semester was to contribute money and partner with three other fraternities and the IFC Executive Team to bring a well-known speaker to campus to talk specifically about men's mental health.

And finally, several of us helped Delta Zeta with parking logistics as their chapter and alumnae celebrated their 90th anniversary at Iowa State.

Campus Involvement

Phi Psi has stayed very involved with Iowa State's Blood Drive. This fall semester, Will Beachner, Justin Watkins, and Gavin Sullivan led the organization as co-Directors. Jackson Stigers, Lucas Petsche, Brandon Bueltel, Jordan Swanson, Brycen Snell, and Louie Ervin served on the Executive Board and more than 20 other Phi Psis served on various committees.

Monday Night Dinner Guests

Monday night dinner guests were back, and we had a solid lineup. Our guests this semester included Nate Carr, who won three NCAA titles and two Big Eight titles wrestling for the Cyclones in the 1980s. He continued wrestling after graduation and won titles in the Pan-Am games, the World Cup, and the Goodwill Games. He took home a bronze in the 1988 Olympics.

Other guests included Ben Kenkel, '07-1340, a member of our rechartering class and now an attorney in Des Moines; Andrew Turner, '07-1343, also a member of our rechartering class and now a Business Analytics Analyst with American Family Insurance in Des Moines; Russ Jones, who heads up Intramurals for the ISU Rec. Dept.; Michael Ciabatti, '17-1533, a member of our chapter and now an Account Manager with LS2 Group in Des Moines; Ben Foxen, '17-1539, a member of our chapter and now a Logistics Account Manager at WorldWide Logistics in Urbandale; several members of the Iowa State softball team; Judy Eyles, Director of the ISU CyBiz Lab and Pappajohn Center for Entrepreneurship.

And last but not least, Wisconsin Gamma (Beloit) brother Dr. Rev. David McDonald once again made the trip from his home near Madison, Wisconsin, to grace us with his presence at a Monday night dinner. Brother McDonald has served as chapter advisor for multiple chapters and has held a variety of positions for the National Fraternity. You may recall that he was our keynote speaker at our chapter centennial in 2013. Since then, he has been a Monday night dinner guest three times. He likes Iowa Beta, and we like him!

Socials and Brotherhood Events

Brothers Kevin Czerwinski and Louie Ervin organized some great brotherhood events this fall, the most notable being paint ball, indoor golf, and ax throwing. We also had our annual brotherhood event at Center Grove Orchard in Cambridge, Iowa.

Not to be outdone were our social chairs, Jake Arnold and Jake Umble. Socials included a James Bond night, a movie night on the front lawn with Pi Phi, front yard yoga with Chi Omega, a luau with Delta Gamma, and pumpkin carving with Tri Delta. One of the biggest socials was Phi Fest. Held on the front lawn, it showcased the musical talent of Gold Revere, a duo composed of brother Ian Crumley and his high school friend Akash Guruaja, who have over 4.6 million plays on one of their most popular songs.

Memorial Service

GP Gannon White presided over the memorial service for Kyle Goodell. L-R: Gannon welcomes Kyle's mother Donna, family friend Zane Hallauer, sister Annie, father Todd. Also attending were Sherri and Doug Troupe (on the right), parents of Paul Troupe '11-1402, another brother who was killed in a traffic accident (in 2014) shortly after graduation.

The chapter was deeply saddened by the passing last summer of brother Kyle Goodell, '18-1566 (as reported elsewhere in this issue). A huge contingent of undergraduates and young alumni traveled to Marion, Iowa, for the funeral services, and after fall semester started, the chapter held a memorial service on campus to commemorate Kyle. Those of us who knew Kyle ... will always remember.

District Council

Will Beachner (L) and Eric Kremer (R) pose with Ron Ransom, the Fraternity's Executive Director, at last summer's District Council meeting held in Lawrence, Kansas.

And a Word of Thanks to . . .

Jim Watson, '70-882 — for buying pizza for the chapter while in town during Finals Week.

Quinn DeVries, '13-1462 — for donating the most recent copy of the Fraternity's Grand Catalogue to the chapter.

The Phi Psi "Dads" (Brian Good, '10-1383; Andrew Allard, '10-1390; J.J. Gardner, '10-1396; Brett Byriell, '11-1400; Ryan Page, '11-1408; Eric Lathrop, '11-1409; Benny Rohloff, '11-1411; Tom Martin, '11-1412; Geoffrey Tajaran, '11-1415; Rick Smith, '12-1430; Ben Reuter, '12-1432; and George Melookaran, '12-1440) — for providing a food truck during work week and pizza for the fall semester retreat.

Scholarships Awarded Fall Semester

Most Valuable Brother Award

Oliver Stratton (L) and Tyler Mills.

The Most Valuable Brother Award is a $1,000 scholarship awarded through the ISU Foundation to the brother who has made the most positive impact on the chapter during the semester, as determined by the chapter. Two awards are presented each semester, one to an underclassman (first or second year of college) and one to an upperclassman (third year of college or above).

This scholarship was created and funded by James P. Grabenbauer, '73-948, with some initial help from Jerry A. Soper, '73-956. More recently, contributions sufficient to endow the scholarship have been added by Gary F. Short, '58-699 to honor his brother Robert E. (Bob) Short, '59-712, father-in-law Charles F. (Chuc) Mason, 1921-109, brother-in-law Charles R. (Dick) Mason, '61-756, and Arthur C. (Con) Short, '56-670.

Oliver Stratton, '18-1597, a Finance and International Business major, (Performing Arts minor), from Frisco, Texas, was the upperclassman recipient. Oliver has served the chapter in multiple roles — Phu, BG, Summer Recruitment Co-Chair, Greek Week Co-Chair, Homecoming Co-Chair, Yell-Like-Hell Co-Chair, Fraternity Education Co-Chair, Social Co-Chair, and Health & Wellness Chair. On campus, he has been involved with ISU Theatre, landing a leading role as a freshman in the performance of Sense and Sensibility.

Tyler Mills, '20-1673, a Kinesiology and Health major from Pleasant Hill, Iowa, was the underclassman recipient. Tyler has served the chapter as Alumni Relations Chair, Community Service Chair, and was just elected GP at the end of fall term. On campus, he was on the Public Relations and Fundraising Committees for the ISU Blood Drive and has been an advocate for sexual assault awareness within the Greek Community.

William and Lindy Good Scholarship

Justin Watkins.

The William and Lindy Good Scholarship is a $5,000 scholarship awarded annually through the Phi Psi Foundation that serves to recognize a brother (generally a senior) who has put substantial effort into making Iowa Beta better during his undergraduate days and who shows potential for continuing his involvement with the chapter as an alumnus. The recipients are chosen by a committee appointed by the House Corporation Board, the current members of which are: Jim Reynolds, '71-930; Alex Lev, '16-1508, and Andrew Turner, '07-1343.

This endowed scholarship was funded by a generous gift from Dennis L. Stanley, '70-893, and his wife Sherri to honor Bill, '69-864, and Lindy Good for their transformational impact on the Iowa Beta Chapter. The Stanleys' gift serves as an inspiration to new generations of leaders as well as a recognition of the long-term leadership of the Goods. Justin Watkins, '18-1594, a Chemical Engineering major from Leawood, Kansas, was the recipient of the 2021-2022 award. Justin has served the chapter as the IFC Rep., House Manager, and the VP of Internal Affairs (VGP), overseeing the Governing Committee and the areas of house, steward, judicial review, and risk management. He was the recipient of the Paul Troupe Award in the spring of 2019 and the Most Valuable Brother Award in the spring of 2020.

On campus, he has served as the Director of the Engineering Career Fair and the Director of the ISU Blood Drive. He is a member of the Honors Program and the Cardinal Key Honor Society.

Other Phi Psi Scholarships

Most Valuable Executive Committee Member:

This is a $750 scholarship awarded each semester through the Iowa Beta Chapter Endowed OneFund (formerly the Chapter Scholarship Fund) at the Phi Psi Foundation to the member of the Executive Committee whom the committee deems to be the most valuable member that semester. The Exec member chosen for fall 2021 semester was Gannon White '19-1628.

The Kyle L. Goodell Spirit Scholarship:

As reported in the Obituary section of this newsletter, one of our May graduates, Kyle Goodell, '18-1566, died July 31 in a car accident. He was driving that morning from his hometown of Marion, Iowa, to Iowa City, to move into an apartment and start a new job.

Kyle was known for his spirit, enthusiasm, and energy, especially in creative activities involving singing, dancing, and acting. He was the chapter's Yell-Like-Hell co-chair, Lip Sync co-chair, Homecoming co-chair the year we won, and the fall 2018 Most Valuable Brother as an underclassman.

Kyle was exceptional at taking younger brothers under his wing, and really showing them how to be the best version of themselves, not only in chapter life, but in the community as well. Kyle's passion for all aspects of life was incredibly contagious to anyone he met and truly made him one of a kind. One thing that Kyle preached was to never live life with any regrets, and he did just that.

Kyle stayed fully involved all four years and was most interested in making sure that the right culture continued in the chapter beyond his graduation. Best of all, he was an all-around great guy.

Kyle's passing resulted in a huge outpouring of support from his family's circle of friends. And to recognize the special place that Phi Kappa Psi had in Kyle's life, Kyle's parents, Todd and Donna Goodell, have established a scholarship fund with the Phi Psi Foundation in his honor and memory. To be known as the Kyle L. Goodell Spirit Scholarship, the scholarship will be awarded each year to one or more undergraduate members of the chapter who have demonstrated the spirit of Kyle L. Goodell, especially in the creative performance aspects of chapter life (performing or directing).

Spotlight on: George A. Rosenfeld, Jr., '52-571

I grew up in Storm Lake, Iowa, and graduated from Storm Lake High School in 1951. This past October I turned 89 years old. Yep! I'll say it! Can't believe where all the years have gone!

My Dad was the county Extension agent, and I raised my share of 4H calves, selling them at the county fairs with tears in my eyes. I had the usual schoolchild jobs growing up: paper boy, mowing lawns with a push mower, snow shoveling, and corn detasseling. Throughout high school my sport of choice was basketball, and I was recruited by several colleges, but I knew Iowa State was the school for me. My Dad (George A. Rosenfeld, '24-138) went to Iowa State and became a Phi Psi, graduating in the 1920s. My grandfather owned a farm south of Ames near Kelley. I was familiar with Ames and ISU and excited to enroll there. Also, my wonderful aunt Louise Rosenfeld was a Home Economics professor at ISU for more than 25 years.

In 1951, I enrolled with a basketball scholarship at Iowa State and lived with the first-year athletes in the West Stadium dorm. My resident advisors were Phi Psi upperclassmen (Stan Campbell, '50-519, and Delmer Dierks, '50-529) who encouraged me to pledge Phi Psi. At that time, the chapter had many athletes involved in all types of sport activities. I was on the ISU basketball team for three years, mainly as a bench warmer, but later played in many city and YMCA leagues wherever I was working. I moved to the Phi Psi house in my sophomore year and waited tables at sorority houses as well as working in the Phi Psi house kitchen. To this day, my wife says I am the best kitchen cleaner-upper she's ever seen! The Phi Psi housemother at the time was Moms Wimmer. She taught me about respect, table manners, and how to behave in polite company.

I was voted GP in 1955 and my college adventures continued. I remember taking a trip to Chicago with my pledge brothers. It was my first trip to a big city and very memorable! In the summer of 1956 I married Connie Carlmark, a Kappa. We were married for 17 years and later divorced with no children. I received my BS in 1956 and then went on to get a MS in Geology in 1958. I spent the summer of 1957 at a research station on Point Barrow, Alaska, writing my thesis on the north slope of Alaska. Alaska was very isolated at this time, and it took me three days to travel there from Iowa.

I was also in Army ROTC at ISU, graduating as a Second Lieutenant, and spent my active duty in the U.S. I later spent eight years in the Army Reserves in Billings, Montana, as the commanding officer of an Army artillery unit, retiring with the rank of Captain.

After completing my active Army duty, I went to work for Shell Oil Company as an engineer and production geologist trainee based in Houston. New hires could choose the location of their first assignment, and I chose Montana, arriving January 2, 1960, in Glendive, Montana, in my brand-new Triumph TR-3. It was -30 degrees F and heavy snow. Thank goodness I also had a company car to get around in. A year later I was transferred to Billings, Montana, which was my ultimate goal. Two years later, that office was closed, and I was transferred to Denver. I was faced with one of the most important decisions of my life until then: should I stay working for a large corporation, or move back to Billings as an independent consulting geologist? As I had fallen in love with Montana, I chose the latter and moved back, opened an office, and became self-employed. I had plenty of work to do around the Rocky Mountain area, so I decided to take flying lessons and loved it! I bought a Beech Bonanza V-tail and flew it all over the United States, Canada, and Mexico for 25 years for work and pleasure.

As an independent oil man, I drilled several oil and gas wells throughout the US, Canada, Ohio, and Texas. There were some dry holes once in a while, but many were good producers. I formed a small oil and gas company with two other ex-Shell engineers and drilled wells in Montana, Wyoming, and North Dakota, later selling to a company in Minneapolis.

From oil production, it was an easy progression for me to go into mining production. I owned silver mines in Montana, Nevada, Arizona, and Mexico. The mine in Mexico resulted in having to fly out 80% silver bars to a refinery in Salt Lake City in my plane from a short dirt mountain airstrip. Taking off with heavy silver on board was often touch and go but always successful. I also had a jade mine in Wyoming for several years. We cut and polished jade and manufactured jade jewelry and home accessories. Now I have a large collection of raw and polished jade of many colors. I still keep my office open (after 55 years) and manage some real estate development properties and some oil production properties.

My first few years in Billings, I did a lot of hiking and mountain climbing throughout Montana, and also climbed The Grand Teton in Wyoming. I took up snow skiing in my late twenties. This opened up a whole new world of adventure for me. The local ski mountain, Red Lodge, was only an hour away from Billings and I skied as often as I could. A few years later I discovered helicopter skiing in Canada. What a thrill! It was rugged skiing in pristine wilderness and gliding through deep powder on ungroomed mountain slopes. My close-call experience was being buried in an avalanche. It picked me up like a toothpick and carried me 100 yards down the mountain. As all skiers wear an avalanche beacon, the ski guides were able to locate me and dig me out in 30 minutes. After heli-skiing in British Columbia, Canada, for close to 30 years, I took a trip to the mountains of Northern India to heli-ski the Himalayas at 17,000 feet. I also had the opportunity to ski the Andes Mountains at Portillo, Chile.

My next adventure thrill was scuba diving, which provided me with travels to many exotic locations. Diving all over the world in Australia, Papua New Guinea, Fiji, Palau, Yap, and the Red Sea, I discovered that diving The Gardens of the Queens off shore in Cuba was my favorite. There is world class diving and sport fishing there and innumerable species of fish: giant groupers, barracuda and tarpon, sharks and whale sharks, and too many reef fish to mention. I am still diving with a return trip back to the Red Sea planned in the spring of 2022.

I have traveled to all the continents with my wife of 40 years, Heather. We spent two weeks in Antarctica in January 2020 on a research ship, returning to the U.S. just before the world shut down due to the COVID pandemic. The weather was so good down there we were able to go farther south than most expeditions to hike the glaciers, play a game of soccer on a glacier field, and sail around the spectacular icebergs in small watercraft and interact with the wildlife, including too many penguins to count.

Some final comments about my life and growing up are about my close family ties with my parents and my brother, Dr. Bill Rosenfeld ('55-637). I would fly my Bonanza back to Storm

Lake and Clear Lake many times to visit family and for holidays. Also, trips in the fall for Cyclone football games and Phi Psi get-togethers were great times to reunite with old friends and catch up. My Phi Psi experience at Iowa State was a large part of my growing up, teaching me about leadership, getting an education that provided me an exciting career, and where I also developed the lifelong bonds of Phi Psi brotherhood and friendship.

It also opened my eyes to seeing the good I could do for my community and organizations locally and around the world. My wife Heather and I contribute regularly in Billings as members of the First Presbyterian Church, Billings Symphony and Chorale, the Boys and Girls Club, the YMCA and YWCA, Yellowstone Valley Animal Shelter, Zoo Montana, as well as the Iowa State Phi Psi and the Iowa State Foundation.

In closing, I'd like to thank Bill Good for all of his guidance and hard work at Iowa Beta and also for the opportunity to be the subject of this spotlight article.

Brother Rosenfeld can be reached at 2316 Azalea Lane, Billings, MT 59102, or at georgrosenfeld@msn.com

Obituaries

William G. Castner, '45-401, passed away in Burien, Washington, on October 17, 2021, at age 94. Bill was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1927. The family moved to Webster City, Iowa, when Bill was in the fourth grade. He graduated from Lincoln High School in Webster City in 1945, where he was valedictorian and played basketball (center), football (end), and baseball (first base). As a senior, he was named the all-conference center, and his team advanced to the final 16 in the state basketball tournament. During high school, he worked in the summers for Beam Manufacturing, assembling azimuth indicators used by tanks in World War II. In 1945, he was also a test driver for the Doodle Bug, a two-wheel scooter made by Beam Manufacturing. Bill entered Iowa State in the summer of 1945. In the summer of 1946, he enlisted in the Navy for two years as an Electronics Technician. After completing his service, he returned to Iowa State and received his BS in Mechanical Engineering in 1950. He met his wife, Colleen, at Iowa State. They were married in 1951, and lived in Webster City for 10 years, where their three children, David, Julie, and Ann, were born. In 1961, the family moved to Seattle, Washington, and Bill took a job with the Computer Department at Boeing. After working for a library computer company in Portland, Oregon, from 1969 to 1973, Bill returned to Boeing Computer Services in 1974. He retired in 1986 at age 59. He then worked various part-time jobs, including teaching computer and science classes, until he was 90 years old. Bill and Colleen moved into Wesley Homes in Des Moines, Washington, in 2012 and celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary this past June. Bill is survived by Colleen; his son David; daughters Julie and Ann; and four grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his granddaughter Jeanne.

his entire career of 43 years serving Torrington/Ingersoll-Rand,

David L. Anthony, '54-627, of Granger, Indiana, passed away on October 1, 2021, surrounded by family. Dave was born in 1935, in Sioux City, Iowa, and graduated from Iowa State University with a degree in Industrial Engineering. Dave was on the Iowa State swim team. After graduation, he accepted a position with Torrington in South Bend, Indiana, where he met his beautiful wife, Myra. Dave spent starting as a sales trainee, and promoted consistently until he retired as the Director of Sales & Marketing Europe, Middle East & Africa. His career transferred him to Connecticut, Chicago, Peoria, Pittsburgh, South Bend, Connecticut, and Paris, France. In 2000, Dave and Myra retired to South Bend, Indiana, to be close to their children and grandson. His family would tease Dave and say the only reason he moved back to South Bend was to be close to his beloved Notre Dame. There were not many home games that he would miss, to cheer on his Fighting Irish. In 1980, Dave's love for sailing and Birch Lake was heightened when he served as the Commodore of the Birch Lake Yacht Club. You could also find Dave playing board games, sailing, playing golf, and reading mystery novels. Dave served as Chairman of the Finance Committee for the Cathedral of St. James, President of the Association for Oak Hill Condominiums, and Treasurer of Quail Ridge South Homeowners Association. In his earlier years, Dave was initiated as a Freemason, and served as a Cub Scout leader, Junior Achievement leader, and Indian Guides leader with his sons. He is survived by his loving wife, Myra; sons, Michael and Jeffrey; daughter, Susan Frucci; and a grandson.

Caren L. "Jeff" Reed, '55-653, passed away July 27, 2021, at his home on Longboat Key, Florida. He and his wife, Judy, had lived most of their adult lives in the northern suburbs of Chicago. Caren was born in 1934 in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He graduated from Martelle High School and Iowa State University. He married his college sweetheart, Judy, and moved to Evanston, Illinois, after accepting a position with the Continental Illinois National Bank, where he worked as a commercial banker for 34 years, eventually becoming executive vice president and head of North American Banking. After his career with Continental, Caren became a founding principal and president of The Private Bank and Trust in Chicago, rising to vice chairman of the board before retiring in 1999. During his career and after retirement, Caren was active in many community and business boards: he was a director of the Ravinia Festival Board, chairman of the Mather Foundation from 2006-2011, served multiple terms in two HOAs, and became treasurer of the Bird Key Yacht Club in Sarasota without ever having owned a boat! He was exacting and precise with financial matters and was asked by many organizations for his assistance. When he served six years in the Iowa National Guard and the U.S. Army Reserve, he was usually put in charge of handling payroll matters. Caren is survived by Judy; children, Tim, Betsy Clark, and Andy; seven grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

David L. Day, '57-677, of Marshalltown, Iowa, passed away September 6, 2021. Dave came from a long legacy of entrepreneurship. He grew up helping at his family's Heart of Iowa Dairy, first cleaning milk bottles and then driving a little stand-up delivery truck. It was during that time that he began to develop a strong work ethic and a brain for business that he took forward with him in life. In high school, Dave played football and basketball, and he ran track, even competing in the Drake relays. He graduated from Marshalltown High School in 1955. He went on to attend college at Iowa State, where he was a walk-on member of the basketball team. After graduating in 1959, he worked a short time at the family-owned bowling alley, where he met his future wife Donna. Shortly after, Dave enlisted and graduated from U.S. Navy Officer Candidate School in 1960. He served as a navigator in the Navy until 1965. He was often called "Mr. Clean" during those days, though many in his life knew him by his CB handle "Bald Eagle." During his years of service, Dave traveled the globe, married Donna, and welcomed their three eldest children into the world. After serving for five and half years, Dave joined his father in the ownership and operations of Lloyd's restaurant in Marshalltown. He prided himself in his work in reducing costs and modernizing the business. During that time, he and Donna also celebrated the birth of their two youngest children. In 1972, Dave started as a liquor broker, and established Iowa Liquor Products, Inc., in 1980. At the time of his retirement in 2006, he was credited with bringing in and introducing a lot of variety to the industry in Iowa, including brands like Bacardi, Tequila Rose, Malibu, and many others. For most lowans, Dave's most famous contribution to the industry was Hawkeye vodka. In the late '80s, Dave founded and trademarked the brand, which to this day remains well known. Dave always found time to enjoy life. He was always up for entertaining friends at home or meeting up with his buddies for a drink at Jack's. He maintained a passion for flying for a number of years, both for work and for fun; at one point, he was the proud owner of a little air coup. On one short flight to visit his daughter in Ames, he found himself detained by the Secret Service due to the President utilizing the municipal airport. Dave also enjoyed taking his motorcycle out for a ride. Later in life, he and his partner Harriet were always venturing out on long road trips and enjoying new places and visiting with friends and family. David is survived by his partner Harriet Parrott; children Jennifer Kapaun, Michael Day, Kimberley Day, and Julie Simkins; and four grandchildren. He is preceded in death by his wife Donna (McFadden) Day, and his son David McFadden Day.

Ronald D. Lichty, '69-865, writes: "Marilyn and I own houses in both San Francisco and Seattle. We were ensconced in SF for decades when our son married and had our grandkids in Seattle. We were traveling to and fro five times a year, and decided to experiment with living both places. It worked really well until the pandemic hit. We finally recognized that we're more Seattle than SF residents, at least as far as mail goes. I'm into my ninth year of solo consulting, a time that's been crazy-busy helping business, product, and engineering leaders transform software development chaos to clarity, training and coaching executives and teams to make their process more effectively agile, and occasionally parachuting into teams as their interim VP of engineering — a wonderful and gratifying mix of work. Having interspersed remote training and advising over the previous eight years, I had a head start when the pandemic hit. I wrote about remote agile at <http://ronlichty.blogspot.com/2020/09/agile-remotely.html>. I've often compared consulting to bananas — it comes in bunches — but in no time has that been more true than during this pandemic. March through May last year were my lightest months ever, as sheltering turned companies inward to try to comprehend working remotely, only to see July, and then since October, be some of my busiest months ever. Untangling knots in software development is certainly no less critical in these times." Write to Ron at 1536 2nd Ave W., Seattle, WA 98119, or send e-mail to ronlichty@gmail.com.

Dale M. Lucht, '71-929, is an Executive Coach with Discover Financial Services, and enjoys golf and skiing. He and Therese (ΑΧΩ-ISU) are parents of Chris (39) and Adam (35), both ΘΞ-ISU. "We recently built a new home at Hilton Head and relocated here from Chicago. I'm still working at Discover, but 100% remotely. I look forward to retiring in 2022 and spending more time on my golf game. I hope to see many brothers at the fall 2022 Anniversary celebration."
